

Saranade
The Doll With A Radio In Her Tummy

Apparently she comes as a blonde or a brunette.

The elusive original record with sleeve.
The owner gets to play all the activities with Serenade

She talks and waits for you to answer.
As long as you get your answer in before she starts talking again!
The spaces where she waits for your reply on the record are pretty short.

It's just a typical kids 4 speed record player.
With a built in transmitter.

Here's the business part of the doll. Her stomach contains a speaker and on/off switch. No tuning, as you tune the phonograph to match the doll. Her abdomen is molded to let a round 9 volt battery snap into place and the two battery terminals snap onto the battery ends.

Her she is on the air at KEBS Radio

Spinning her own record!
